Roxbury Community College (RCC) is committed to the Americans With Disabilities Act and to creating an educational environment that promotes academic excellence and personal exploration for all students. This includes a commitment to achieving equal educational opportunities and full participation for persons with disabilities. RCC offers a college experience where individuals with disabilities have the same access to programs and activities as all others. This policy derives from the College’s overall commitment to non-discrimination of all persons in employment, creating accessible facilities, student programs, activities and services.

To this end, RCC strives to achieve excellence in its services and to assure that its resources are delivered equitably and efficiently to all of its students.

If you have questions, please contact the coordinator of disability services (CDS). The CDS coordinates the provision of accommodations for otherwise qualified college students with disabilities. Accommodations are individualized, flexible, and confidential, based on the nature of the disability and the academic environment.

A guide to Disability Services is available on the RCC website:
