

A Harlem Romance:

Poetic Expressions of Love During the Harlem Renaissance and Today

Blues by Archibald J. Motley (1929)

*Music,
Poetry,
Chocolate!*

Friday, February 11, 2011

12:30 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.

Media Arts Building, Room 310

Join us in a celebration of Valentine's Day and Black History Month at a poetry event featuring the music and words of the Harlem Renaissance (1920s-1930s) as well as contemporary sketches of the theme of love. Don't hesitate! Bring a date to listen to your "Love Remix" presented as a rap, song, poem, or spoken word. It can be an original piece of writing or authored by your favorite artist. It doesn't matter how you deliver the words, as long as you affirm the power of LOVE!

Email Prof. Gray, Coordinator of the Honors Program, at rgray@rcc.mass.edu to sign-up to read at the event OR write your name on the "sign-up sheet" located at room 3-332.